Poetry Reading
Slated Tonight

Carolyn Kizer, poet and editor of "Poetry Northwest," will present a poetry reading in the Music Recital Hall at 8:15 tonight.

Miss Kizer is author of two books of poems, "The Ungrateful Garden" and "Knock Upon Silence." She founded the quarterly magazine "Poetry Northwest" with Richard Hugo and Nelson Bentley in 1959, according to Herb Gottfried, graduate assistant in English.

Miss Kizer's appearance is being sponsored by the English Department.

K-Dettes to March
At C Tournament

The final K-Dette performance at a basketball game for this season will be Friday at the state Class C basketball tournament in Helena.

The Army ROTC women's marching unit is preparing for spring quarter activities. They will march at the Lilac Festival in Spokane and perform with the Army cadets in Monday afternoon reviews.

Preregistration Breaks Record

Preregistration for spring quarter drew about 3,800 or 69 per cent of the students out of an October count of 5,600 attending the University. Leo Smith, registrar, said the number is an improvement over any previous preregistration total.

Students who registered in advance will pick up print-outs of their class schedules in Main Hall 205 on March 28. They will be admitted by the following schedule according to the first letter of the last name:

8 to 9 a.m. _____	S-Z	1 to 2 p.m. _____	G-I
9 to 10 a.m. _____	P-R	2 to 3 p.m. _____	D-F
10 to 11 a.m. _____	M-O	3 to 4 p.m. _____	A-C
11 to 12 noon _____	J-L

All students who have not registered in advance will pick up packets in the Field House and complete registration March 28. Admission to the Field House will be:

7:45 a.m. _____	V-Z	9:45 a.m. _____	M-N
8:15 a.m. _____	S-U	10:15 a.m. _____	O-R
8:45 a.m. _____	A-C	10:45 a.m. _____	G-H
9:15 a.m. _____	D-F	11:15 a.m. _____	I-L

Mr. Smith said about 1,800 are expected to register on regular registration day.

Conference
Urges Image
Improvement

The social welfare image needs better understanding, concluded participants in the Fourth Institutional Management Conference staged in Missoula Friday.

Community services laboratory, a class in the social welfare department, sponsored the workshop. Participants also discussed the need for practical experience or internship by college social welfare majors, according to Carolyn Lehman, class chairman.

Resolutions passed by those attending the workshop were:

- (1) An inter-agency council to promote education in the helping services should be appointed.
- (2) Social welfare programs at four-year Montana colleges should be expanded.
- (3) An advanced degree in social welfare should be offered in Montana.
- (4) Montana needs to employ a public relations official to help with social work recruiting.

Agencies participating were the departments of public welfare, institutions and vocational rehabilitation, the human resources commission and several local and state private and public agencies.

Final Action Set

Final action will be taken on the proposed commissioner form of government at Planning Board today.

The board will list the qualifications and duties of commissioners and boards and state the wording of the plan. The proposal will be forwarded to Central Board following Planning Board's decisions, Tom Behan, Planning Board chairman, said.

CB Considers Cheering Add

A bylaw change which would remove pompon girls from the cheering squad will be considered by Central Board at tonight's meeting.

The change would add two cheerleaders to the squad.

The board expects a proposal that the Garret editor be given authority to decide whether the publication needs a business manager. Cliff Peterson, former Garret editor, has suggested the staff needs a business manager only when the magazine uses advertising.

Dankers Ordered
To Viet Nam Post
In Reassignment

Maj. William H. Dankers, assistant professor of military science, has been reassigned to Headquarters MACV, Military Assistance Command, Viet Nam, when his tour of duty at UM is over.

Capt. M. S. Cralle, Army ROTC information officer, announced the change in orders yesterday.

According to Capt. Cralle, Maj. Dankers had been assigned previously to the First Cavalry Air Mobile at An Khe in the central highlands.

Maj. Dankers will spend five weeks at the Special Forces Warfare Center at Fort Bragg, N.C., before going overseas in August. Once in Viet Nam, Dankers will work with Vietnamese forces as a training adviser.

Chamber Official Talks

U-City Relations
Hoped Improving

The University can expect progress in the University-community areas of housing, racial discrimination and coverage of positive rather than only negative University news, Dale Moore, Chamber of Commerce president, told the Faculty-Student Council yesterday.

"The Chamber of Commerce will do everything it can to help you in these areas because the Chamber is interested in the University," he said. "As it grows, the community grows."

He said the basic duty of the Chamber is "to serve as a coagulant of industry, business, labor and education."

Student and faculty participation in the Chamber is necessary, he said. Pres. Robert Johns and Robert Pantzer, UM financial vice president, are already members of the Chamber's Board of Directors.

Committee Recommended

The Council decided to recommend at the Central Board meeting tonight that students be appointed to work with the Chamber.

Greg Osborn, education senior, asked whether the Chamber could arrange some program for the 2,000-student overflow expected next fall.

Mr. Moore answered that local businessmen will not build apartment houses until students can pay enough to cover the building costs.

When Gary Cummins, graduate assistant in history, asked whether private dormitories could be built similar to those in Athens, Ohio and Portland, Ore., Mr. Moore said contractors throughout the state will be approached.

Foreign students, especially Negroes, have difficulty in renting apartments, Osborn said.

"Prejudice comes from ignorance," Cummins said. "If foreign students could be introduced through the press, persons could learn to know them as more than guests and could perhaps abolish prejudices." Mr. Moore suggests a continuous coverage program be established with local papers.

Discrimination Discussed

Other recommendations are the construction of a University apartment house for foreign students and the abolishment of racial discrimination in approved University housing.

"One of the most important University functions is to attract out-of-state and out-of-country students who bring in new ideas," Mr. Moore said. "The community should be given every chance to learn how important these students are."

George Lewis, assistant professor of music, said the community needs to understand the importance of all students. Too often the community learns only of students connected with controversies, he said.

Positivism Urged

Mr. Moore suggests that the University insure publicity of positive, uncontroversial aspects of the University rather than only the negative, controversial issues, that students and faculty attend Chamber meetings and that groups, such as the Chamber, inform the public of their beliefs.

"The Chamber of Commerce has to start commenting either in support of or disagreement with Missoula and University events," he said.

The University can expect progress on these points, because the Chamber is gaining potential as an action group, he said. The budget of the Chamber increased from $30,000 to $65,000 last year and membership is higher than ever before.

"Chances of improving the situation between the University and Missoula are excellent if we get to know each other better," he said. "It is difficult to dislike someone you know."

Moore Discusses Babcock
Appropriations Statement

Gov. Babcock incorrectly stated last week that incidents on campus would insure lower appropriations from the next legislature, Dale Moore, president of the Missoula Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday at the Faculty-Student Council.

"The good governor didn't like what was happening at the University and tried to lay the problem on the shoulders of the legislature," he said.

"Instead of attacking his employee, Pres. Robert Johns, the governor should have supported him. When a man works for me, I think it is my responsibility to support him whatever happens. I think the governor was also incorrect in saying that the legislators are naive enough to allow a few insignificant incidents to affect appropriations."

George Lewis, assistant professor of music, said, "The governor was ill-advised in making an open invitation to the legislature to cut appropriations. He ignored the positive aspects of the University."

"Pres. Johns is stimulating and is helping the University progress," Mr. Moore said. "Anyone who acts is criticized. Progress necessarily brings turmoil."

California Woman Finds Rorvik, Friebish 'Seditious'

To the Kaimin:

Editorials in the Kaimin by Rorvik and Friebish have recently been brought to my attention. Such trash! Is this what made our nation great?

I suggest you run the enclosed editorial from the San Francisco Examiner of a year ago which recently won top honors from the Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Penn. It has been reprinted in many papers all over the nation. If you have done so, run it again at this time. It might make up partly for the irresponsibility and unpatriotic trash you have stooped to.

At a time when our nation needs all the moral strength it can conjure up and a will to defeat atheistic world communism, this kind of journalism is better described as sedition.

The "redeeming" editorial in question, "The Appalling Erosions of Moral Standards," is reprinted below, followed by our editorial comment. From the San Francisco Examiner:

What has happened to our national morals?

An educator speaks out in favor of free love. A man of God condones sexual excursions by unmarried adults. Movies sell sex as a commercial commodity. Book stores and cigar stands peddle pornography. A high court labels yesterday's smut as today's literature. Record shops feature albums displaying nudes and near nudes. Night clubs stage shows that would have shocked a smoker audience a generation ago.

TV shows and TV commercials pour out a flood of sick, sadistic and suggestive sex situations. A campaign is launched to bring acceptance to homosexuality. Radio broadcasts present discussions for and against promiscuity. Magazines publish pictures and articles that flagrantly violate the bounds of good taste. Four-letter words once heard only in barroom brawls now appear in publications of general distribution. Birth control counsel is urged for high school girls.

Look around you. These things are happening in your America. In the two decades since the end of World War II we have seen our national standards of morality lowered again and again.

We have seen a steady erosion of past principles of decency and good taste.

And—we have harvested a whirlwind. As our standards have lowered, our crime levels and social problems have increased.

Today, we have a higher percentage of our youth in jail . . . in reformatories . . . on probation and in trouble than ever before.

Study the statistics on illegitimate births . . . on broken marriages . . . on juvenile crimes . . . on school drop-outs . . . on sex deviation . . . on dope addiction . . . on high school marriages . . . on crimes of passion.

The figures are higher than ever. And going higher.

Parents, police authorities, educators and thoughtful citizens in all walks of life are deeply disturbed.

They should be. For they are responsible. We of the older generation are responsible.

Our youngsters are no better and no worse than we were at the same age. Generally, they are wiser. But—they have more temptations than we had. They have more cars. They have more money. They have more opportunities for getting into trouble.

We opened doors for them that were denied to us. We encouraged permissiveness. We indulged them. We granted maximum freedoms. And we asked for a minimum in respect . . . and in responsibility. Rules and regulations that prevailed for generations as sane and sensible guides for personal conduct were reduced or removed. Or ignored.

Prayer was banned from the schoolroom and the traditional school books that taught moral precepts as well as reading were replaced with the inane banalities of "Dick and Jane."

Basically, there are just two main streams of religious thought in these United States. Those who believe in a Supreme Being. And those who do not.

The first group far outnumbers the second. But—this nation that was founded on the democratic concept of "majority rule" now denies the positive rights of many to protect the negative rights of a few.

As prayer went out of the classroom so, too, did patriotism.

No longer are our children encouraged to take pride in our nation's great and glorious past.

Heroes are down-graded. The role played by the United States in raising the hearts and hopes of all enslaved peoples for a century and a half is minimized.

We believe this is wrong. We are convinced that a majority of our citizens would welcome an increase in patriotism and prayer and a decrease in the peddling of sex, sensationalism, materialism and sordidness.

American Morality Ascends

What has, in fact, happened to our national morals?

● A man of God has had the good sense—and has been accorded the freedom—to "condone" pre-marital sex so that, just possibly, there will be fewer post-marital breakups which (has it ever occurred to the San Francisco Examiner and the Mrs. Setterfields?) usually involve children. What, finally, is more important? A broken hymen or a broken family.

● A high court (lo, even the Supreme Court) refuses to repress literature on grounds that it is "obscene," i.e., offensive to somebody-or-other's particular sensitivities, because it seeks actively—and more effectively than at any time in our "glorious" past—to assert and safeguard the individual's right to know, to see, to feel, to think, to be with all the freedom and equality that the system can provide.

● A campaign is launched—at long, long last—to bring acceptance to homosexuality. What would the Examiner have us do? Continue to regard the homosexual as an alien species engendered and encountered only in public johns, a shameful, odious perversion of the natural order, a thing to be feared, hated, scorned and forever hidden? Is that the kind of morality Mrs. Setterfield would have us sustain?

● Radio broadcasts present discussions for and against promiscuity. How disgusting! We all know that promiscuity is widespread but how degrading it is to discuss it, to recognize it, to explore its causes and examine its effects. With people talking for it as well as against it, the whole situation could get out of hand and we might even understand it.

Yes, look around you, Americans. These same things are happening in your country. In the many decades since our Puritan forefathers massacred whole tribes of Indians (heathen devils) in the name of God, in the years since it was commonplace to lynch Negroes without trial in Mississippi and since the time immigrant laborers were virtually enslaved by the fathers of industry in Chicago and New York, we have seen our national standards of morality achieve greater and greater heights.

We have witnessed, among a people increasingly aware, tolerant and respectful of universal civil liberties, a consistent strengthening of those past principles which our progenitors posited but so often failed to live up to. And we have harvested, as a result, a higher degree of humanity, a more honorable life for all our citizens: not only for our white, Anglo-Saxon protestants but for our Catholics, Jews, Negroes, Indians, "non-believers," Communists and all the other "aliens" who have made our society what it is today.

Tip Matmen To Compete At Mankato

Four University of Montana wrestlers left today for Mankato, Minn., where they will compete in the NCAA Collegiate Division wrestling championships on the campus of Mankato State College.

The four are Bob Palmer, Missoula, Dick Treat, Atherton, Calif., Tony Costello, Chula Vista, Calif., and Dick Southern, Missoula.

Palmer, a 137-pounder, is considered one of the outstanding wrestlers in the Pacific Northwest. He was Big Sky Conference champion in his weight class in 1964 and this year, and was runnerup in 1965. He is a junior majoring in education.

The 160-pound Treat finished the year with a 7-5 record and second place in the Big Sky at 152 pounds.

Costello, who placed second at 191 pounds at the Bozeman conference meet, had a 9-2-2 record at the season's end.

The 123-pound Southern won the Big Sky championship for his division in 1965 and was runnerup this year. He is a junior majoring in psychology.

IM Basketball Semifinal Play Slated Today

The field has narrowed to four teams in the all-intramural basketball tournament.

Semifinal action today will find the Rejects and the Gnus battling for a championship berth at 4 p.m.

The Rejects defeated the Apothecaries, 44-32, Saturday to advance into the semifinals. The Gnus made it by edging Windsor Block, 45-43, Monday.

The other semifinal game at 5 p.m. will find Phi Delta Theta battling the Ramblers. Both teams won yesterday to advance. The Phi Deltas clobbered Harlem Cosa Nostra, 88-36, while the Ramblers nipped Blue Wave, 51-50.

Two of the four semifinal teams are undefeated this season. Phi Delta Theta finished the regular season with a 7-0 mark, and since then has won two tournament games.

The Ramblers won their league with a 5-0 record, and have also added two more wins in tourney play.

The Rejects and the Gnus each lost one game during season action, with 5-1 and 4-1 records, respectively.

All four teams drew byes in the tourney's first round.

Winners of today's games will face each other tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Men's Gym for the championship. Phi Delta Theta won the crown last year.

IM WRESTLING POSTPONED

Intramural wrestling competition has been postponed until the beginning of next quarter, according to Ed Chinske, intramural director.

The change was made because the Field House wrestling room will not be available for use this quarter, Chinske said.
